Our Vision and Values

As a Church of England school, our Christian Vision is embedded within the ethos of our school and is at the heart of our work here at Walkwood in shaping our curriculum and provision that we provide for our pupils.  While Christian principles underpin the school's vision, these morals and values are shared by many faiths, and we are fully inclusive of all faiths and beliefs through promoting understanding and mutual respect.

Underpinning our Christian vision are our core values which have been chosen by staff, pupils and our broader school community.  Alongside our vision they are embedded within our daily work here at Walkwood.

Our Vision

In our inclusive community, each valued individual is taught self-belief.

We are resilient and optimistic, caring for ourselves and our peers.

We are Children of God, with hope, awe and wonder in our hearts.

Be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another,
as God in Christ forgave you.

Ephesians 4:32

Friendship          Respect          Honesty          Kindness

We believe this policy should be viewed in conjunction with the following policies:

- Keeping Children Safe in Education 2023
- Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy 2025-2026
  Safeguarding and Child Protection - Walkwood Church of England Middle School

We are aware that 'Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure there are appropriate policies and procedures in place in order for appropriate action to be taken in a timely manner to safeguard and promote children's welfare.' (Keeping Children Safe in Education: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges (DfE 2024)).

We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all children and we take account of the information contained in the DfE documents 'Working Together to Safeguard Children' (July 2023) and 'Keeping Children Safe in Education: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges (DfE 2024)). ' as the safety and protection of children is of paramount importance to everyone in this school.

We believe that all children have the right to be safe in our society. Therefore, we recognise that we have a duty to ensure arrangements are in place for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children by creating a positive school atmosphere through our teaching and learning, pastoral support and care for both pupils and school staff, training for school staff and with working with parents.

We are aware that under the 'Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015' we have the duty to have 'due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism'. This duty is known as the prevent duty and we believe it is essential that school staff are able to identify those who may be vulnerable to radicalisation or being influenced by extremist views, and then to know what to do when they are identified.

We understand that:

- Extremism is the vocal or active opposition to our fundamental values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and the mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs which also includes calling for the deaths of members of the armed forces.

- Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with terrorist groups.

- Terrorism is an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public and is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause.

(Keeping Children Safe in Education: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges (DfE))

We understand that there is no single way of identifying whether a child is likely to be susceptible to extremist ideology. However, there are some behavioral traits that could indicate a child has been exposed to radicalizing influences such as:

1. Increased Isolation or Withdrawal

- Avoiding family or old friends.

- Spending excessive time alone or online.

- Becoming emotionally distant or secretive.

- Reluctance to discuss their activities or interests.

2. Personality or Mood Changes

- Sudden or unexplained changes in behaviour or mood.

- Increased anger, irritability, or volatility.

- Loss of interest in activities they previously enjoyed.

- Becoming more confrontational, especially around topics like religion, politics, or identity.

3. Use of Extremist or Intolerant Language

- Adopting ideological rhetoric that mirrors extremist content (e.g., "the West is evil", "non-believers deserve punishment").

- Repeating conspiracy theories or propaganda without critical engagement.

- Displaying an "us vs. them" worldview — often targeting certain ethnic, religious, or political groups.

4. Fixation on Identity or Justice Issues

- Expressing strong grievance about perceived injustice or oppression (personal, community, or global).

- Glorifying or romanticising acts of violence in the name of a cause.

- Talking obsessively about specific ideologies, conflicts, or figures (e.g., martyrdom, jihad, fascism).

5. Increased Secrecy or Use of Encrypted Communication

- Using multiple social media accounts or encrypted platforms (e.g., Telegram, Discord).

- Becoming highly secretive about online activity or devices.

- Hiding screen when approached or erasing browser history.

6. Changes in Dress or Appearance

- Sudden change in clothing style linked to a particular ideological group.

- Adopting symbolic imagery, badges, or logos associated with extremist movements.

- Criticising others for not conforming to certain dress codes or cultural expectations.

7. Disengagement from Education or Authority

- Refusing to attend school or becoming disruptive in class.

- Showing disrespect for teachers, police, or government figures.

- Expressing a belief that laws or democratic processes are illegitimate or corrupt.

8. Interest in Weapons or Violent Content

- Talking about or researching weapons or terrorist attacks.

- Accessing violent extremist media or manifestos online.

- Drawing or writing about violent acts in a glorifying manner.

9. Peer Influence or New Associations

- Associating with new peer groups espousing extremist views.

- Drifting away from family-approved friends or communities.

- Speaking about "a mentor" or online figure who influences them.

Important Caveats

- These behaviours do not confirm radicalisation on their own.

- They should be seen as indicators of vulnerability, often overlapping with mental health concerns, bullying, trauma, or identity crises.

- Effective safeguarding involves building trust, listening non-judgmentally, and seeking professional guidance when necessary

We are aware of the Channel Panel which is a voluntary, confidential programme 'which focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism' and it uses a 'multi-agency approach to protect vulnerable people by identifying individuals at risk; assessing the nature and extent of that risk; and developing the most appropriate support plan for the individuals concerned.'

We understand that is our duty under the statutory guidance on the prevent duty to have in place a risk assessment, a working partnership with the Local Safeguarding Children Boards (LSCBs), training school staff and IT policies.

We have a duty to actively promote and embed British values such as 'democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs' within this school and to challenge pupils, school staff or parents who express extremist views contrary to these values. We want to ensure pupils are prepared for life in modern Britain by the active promotion of and respect of British values.

We do not shy away from teaching British values as we believe that schools have a major role to play in upholding them in order to develop children's resilience against extremism and acts of terrorism.

We work hard to ensure British values are embedded across the whole curriculum and the school ethos through spiritual, moral, social and cultural lessons, citizenship and PSHE.

We aim to be judged at least good in all school inspections by ensuring that we have in place arrangements to promote pupils' welfare and curriculum measures in place to prevent radicalisation and extremism.

We will refer any concerns we may have regarding individuals or groups of individuals who have or demonstrate extremist views to the relevant outside agencies as we feel that we have a duty to intervene at the earliest opportunity and to protect those concerned.

We will ensure that counter-radicalisation strategies will not prevent teachers discussing with their pupils controversial ideas and topics as we wish pupils to further develop their own critical thinking skills.

We wish to work closely with the school council and to hear their views and opinions as we acknowledge and support Article 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child that children should be encouraged to form and to express their views.

We as a school community have a commitment to promote equality. Therefore, an equality impact assessment has been undertaken and we believe this policy is in line with the Equality Act 2010.

We all have a responsibility to ensure equality permeates in to all aspects of school life and that everyone is treated equally irrespective of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. We want everyone connected with this school to feel safe, secure, valued and of equal worth.

We believe it is essential that this policy clearly identifies and outlines the roles and responsibilities of all those involved in the procedures and arrangements that are connected with this policy.

We recognise that we have a duty to ensure arrangements are in place for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children by creating a positive school atmosphere through our teaching and learning, pastoral support and care for both pupils and school staff, training for school staff and with working with parents. We teach all our children about safeguarding.

We work hard to ensure that everyone keeps careful watch throughout the school and in everything we do for possible dangers or difficulties. We want all children to feel safe at all times. We want to hear their views of how we can improve all aspects of safeguarding and from the evidence gained we put into place all necessary improvements.

Equality Impact Assessment

Under the Equality Act 2010 we have a duty not to discriminate against people on the basis of their age, disability, gender, gender identity, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief and sexual orientation.

This policy has been equality impact assessed and we believe that it is in line with the Equality Act 2010 as it is fair, it does not prioritise or disadvantage any pupil and it helps to promote equality at this school.

Race Disparity Audit

We acknowledge the findings of the Race Disparity Audit that clearly shows how people of different ethnicities are treated across the public services of health, education, employment and the criminal justice system.

The educational section of the audit that covers: differences by region; attainment and economic disadvantage; exclusions and abuse; and destinations, has a significant importance for the strategic planning of this school.

Monitoring the Implementation and Effectiveness of the Policy

The practical application of this policy will be reviewed annually or when the need arises by the coordinator, the Headteacher and the nominated governor.

A statement of the policy's effectiveness and the necessary recommendations for improvement will be presented to the governing body for further discussion and endorsement.

| Addendum |

We understand that recent research undertaken by UCL's Institute of Education has found that teachers:

- are reporting a rise in extremist views and conspiracy theories among pupils;
- view their role in tackling extremism as one of mandated reporting of pupils at risk of radicalisation rather than education;
- are worried about:

  - ☐ talking about extreme views in the classroom just in case they got it wrong;
  - ☐ not knowing how much of their own views to share in discussions;
  - ☐ the difficulty of hearing views that conflicted with their own values.

- recognise the conflict between fostering open discussions while ensuring the classroom remained safe for all pupils.

We believe that:

- every pupil should be taught how to reject extremist beliefs and ideologies;
- schools need time, training and resources to teach pupils how to tackle the rise in extremist views;
- time in the curriculum must be found to have frank and open discussions about extremism;
- dangerous ideologies must never be swept under the carpet;
- the power of education must be used to help pupils stand up and reject extremism and violence.
